

By allowing cell phone use on commercial aircraft, you would be adding to a sometimes already chaotic atmosphere. I don't want to hear people's conversations while dining at a restaurant, and I certainly don't want to be trapped on a plane with them if I'd like to watch a movie, or sleep. The sense of entitlement that people seem to feel now has gone too far.